AN ARMY SURGEON'S LIFE WORK

WHAT HE HAD ACCOMPLISHED WHEN DEATH CAME.

An Interview With a Physician of Another State Who Talks Enthusiastically of What He Knows of a Greensboro Institution.

In the year 1862, when the clouds of the most distressing war of the century were lowering upon this country, and the North was in a death grapple with its sister Southern States, an army surgeon, attached to one of those Central Western regiments, which, more than any of all the vast armies of the North, came near being equal, man to man, to the Southern soldiers, sat upon his camp stool in the open air, worn out with the day's march. There was no time for tent making. Forced marches, and the proximity of the enemy made the tired men only too glad to stretch their weary limbs upon the friendly earth with no roof above save that of Nature's canopy. As the listless, done-for men moved about, the surgeon, with serious, thoughtful, face, noted, as he had so often before on similar occasions, that here and there, from different messes, two or three men were going off almost stealthily with their canteens. The doctor knew too well, that they, provided with abundant rations and with plenty of water, were leaving camp, tired and worn out, and ready to drop as they were, to roam about the neighboring woods in search for some hillside distillery, that their craving for alcohol might be satisfied. "Father must have been right," he murmured, "surely the passion of these weary men for drink is no momentary or trifling desire, but a disease, a terrible, exacting, disease. I shall see."

And from that day the army surgeon worked with one aim in view. He took up the study of inebriety where his father had left off. He worked for years unnoticed, quietly, thoroughly. He did not, like other men have done who had an inkling of a great discovery, announce it to the world before the first thread of the tangled skein had been unravelled, and thereby spoiled it all. But he did his work completely, and so, six months ago, when the army surgeon summoned by the Reaper, bade farewell to the earth, he left it as a benefactor leaves, with the consciousness that his hand had been upon it for good, and that thousands, nay, hundreds of thousands of lives had been transformed by the results of his labors, and more, that those results were but then beginning. There is little need to call that man's name. It is already apparent to the reader. The names of men who do great things do not need to be told in connection with their accomplishment. What that accomplishment was can best be told in the words of the famous T. De Witt Talmage—words not high sounding, but eloquent in their simplicity:

"In my church in Brooklyn, there are sitting before me Sabbath by Sabbath men who were once under the serfdom of strong drink, but are now clothed and in their right minds. I have now in mind a young man who had broken his father's heart and his mother's heart. He was bolstered up, and he fell; everything tried with him possible. He became a converted man, joined the church; but this awful disease drew him down and down, and there seemed no cure. He is redeemed today. The Keeley cure saved him, and nothing else under Heaven would. Never let the time come in my history when I cease to extol the grace of God, but there are other men who need something beside that. Dr. Keeley struck the key-note when he said 'This evil is a disease.'"

This train of thought was suggested by the enthusiasm of a physician of a neighboring State who was in Greensboro yesterday. He had been a patient of the Greensboro Keeley Institute several years ago, and had come to bring a patient. Since his own cure he had been possessed of such a feeling of gratitude that his labors to get others to come have been indefatigable.

"I was," said he, "the most besotted of men, health gone, practice going and prospects blighted. Try as I would, the accursed craving would get

DEATH OF MRS. McCARY.

Died at the Home of Her Parents in Lexington Last Night.

Mrs. T. E. McCary, of this city, died at the home of her father in Lexington last night. The news came as a great shock to her friends in this city. Mrs. McCary had had fever during the summer, but had recovered sufficiently to go on a visit to her father, Mr. Shemwell, at Lexington. There she had a relapse with fatal result.

Mrs. McCary was twenty-eight years of age, and a most lovable character. Since her residence here with her husband, who is chief clerk in Marshal Millikan's office, she has made many friends. She leaves a husband and a little babe, only five months old. She was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city, and the pastor, Rev. Dr. E. W. Smith, will conduct the funeral services at Lexington tomorrow.

The afflicted husband has the sincere sympathy of all who know him.

Miss Clara Howland and Mr. Roscoe Mitchell Married in Charlotte.

Miss Clara Howland, of Charlotte, and Mr. Roscoe Mitchell, of Graham, were married yesterday afternoon at Westminster Presbyterian church, Charlotte. The bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Howland, of Charlotte, and has a wide circle of friends who wish her much happiness. Mr. Mitchell is well known in Greensboro, he having spent some time here last summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell spent last night in the city and left this afternoon for Washington City.

Claims to Have Been Drugged.

Deputy Sheriff Weatherly this morning arrested a negro, Matthew Howard, on a warrant charging him with having drugged and assaulted a negro girl living in the suburbs, Eliza McAden, whose age was reported by her mother, who swore out the warrant, as fourteen or fifteen. The alleged crime was committed December 22. The mother claims that the girl was drugged, and has only now become partially conscious.

Burned Her Bed.

Early this morning Jim Aldridge, a negro living on Mr. Henry Hunter's farm, about two miles east of the city, heated a rock and put in a bed occupied by his sick wife. He then left the house to feed some cattle. In a few minutes he heard his wife scream, and running back to the house, found the bed wrapped in flames and the woman on the floor, but only slightly burned. He threw the bed into the yard.

Ground Broken for Bobbin Factory.

Ground has been broken for the Sherwood Bobbin factory, which will be located near the intersection of the A. & Y. and Southern railways, just opposite the Greensboro furniture factory. The plant is expected to be in operation by the first of February.

Installation of Officers.

The encampment of Odd Fellows will meet in their lodge room tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock. Officers will be installed, after which supper will be served. All members of the encampment are urged to be present.

Watchman Robbed.

Last night the white man employed by the Southern Railway to guard the crossing on Summit avenue went to sleep in his little guard house. While sweetly sleeping some miscreant broke the glass in his window and took his pistol which was laying handy. The watchman's nap was undisturbed by his visitor, who made good his escape.

Vast Combine in Insurance.

Indianapolis Special, 1st.

A deal in which about $50,000,000 of accident insurance capital is involved, and one of the largest consolidations ever effected in this country, was consummated here today. By its terms the Railway Officials and Employees' Accident Association, of this city; the Metropolitan Accident Insurance Company, of Chicago; the Northwestern Benevolent Society and the Continental Insurance Company are consolidated under the terms of the Continental Casualty Company, which was incorporated under the insurance laws of Indiana some time ago. Headquarters of the new company will be in Chicago.

ANOTHER WARNING TO CUDAHY

KIDNAPPERS STILL MASTERS OF THE SITUATION.

A Letter Threatens Destruction of the Whole Family if the Reward is Not Withdrawn.

Omaha, Jan. 2.—Another letter, printed with a lead pencil, was received by E. A. Cudahy this afternoon demanding the withdrawal of the reward for the kidnapers. The letter demanded the withdrawal of the Cudahy offer of reward and of the city's offer as well under the penalty not only of trouble for the children, but the destruction of the entire Cudahy family. The epistle closed with an injunction to "heed this warning."

In spite of the two rewards which have been offered for the arrest and conviction of the kidnapers, their secret is still well kept.

PAT CROWE MAKING FOR THE HOLE IN THE WALL.

Chadron, Neb., Jan. 2.—The officers who were reported to have captured Pat Crowe, the alleged abductor of young Edward Cudahy, of Omaha, while endeavoring to make good his escape across the Pine Ridge country yesterday, are said to have been thrown of their guard, and Crowe's friends are believed to be spiriting him away to the Hole in the Wall country, in Wyoming.

HIS BROTHER RELEASED.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 2.—Edward A. Cudahy, Jr., failed today to identify J. J. Crowe as one of the men who kidnapped him and the suspect was released from custody this afternoon.

TO PUNISH KIDNAPPERS WITH DEATH.

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 2.—Senator Ransom, of Omaha, introduced in the State Senate today a bill to make kidnapping under certain conditions punishable by death.

Mr. Farrar Assigns.

Mr. M. R. Farrar, doing a jewelry business as W. B. Farrar's Son, on Elm street opposite the postoffice, today made an assignment. The papers of assignment were made out by Col. John A. Barringer, and the assignee is Mr. Geo. H. Royster. The liabilities are about $5,000, supposed assets $3,000. Mr. Farrar has himself spent the fall at the University pursuing a medical course, while the business has been managed by Mr. W. G. Frazier, who is no longer with the business. Mr. Farrar will resume his studies as soon as the business will allow him to leave.

Big Shoe Combine.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—The Record tomorrow will say: "Shoe manufacturers are planning the establishment of a National Shoe Company to dominate the distribution of shoes to the retailers and eliminate the middleman's profits. R. F. Wolfe, of Columbus, O., is sponsor for the new project and he has interested twelve of the largest manufacturers in the East. The company is to consist of not more than twelve houses manufacturing dissimilar lines of shoes, with a total capital stock of $3,500,000. Depots will be established in every leading city in the United States."

A Negro Hanged by a Mob of His Own Color.

Atlanta, Jan. 3.—A special to The Constitution from Quitman, Ga., says: "A negro whose name cannot be learned was lynched by a mob of his own color tonight nine miles north of Quitman for assaulting a small negro girl. Balliff Pace, of this county, had the negro in charge and was making his way here. When about to board a train near Kennedy, a mob of negroes who were on the train, prevented him doing so, and, taking the prisoner, shot him, with no attempt at concealment of their crime."

Killed While Trying to Frighten Children.

Columbus, Ga., Jan. 2.—Wm. Rutledge shot and killed George Bass, a 14-year-old lad, at the former's home, one mile west of this place, about dark tonight. Young Bass playfully put a sack over his head and went to the Rutledge home to frighten some children when Rutledge, not knowing who he was, shot and killed him.

MIXED RESULTS OF A FIRE.

Twenty-Eight Families Out of Homes. Two Deaths and a Birth.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Jersey City, Jan. 3.—A fire early this morning burned a tenement on Brunswick street, and twenty-eight families are out in the cold. One woman was burned to death, and a baby was born during the fire. One fireman was fatally burned. The fire started at 131 Brunswick street, and spread with frightful rapidity to three adjoining houses. Over ten thousand dollars worth of valuable paintings were destroyed in one house. The woman burned to death lived on the top floor and was sixty years old, Mrs. Divine by name. Mrs. Arnicker was carried to the street and gave birth to the baby on the way.

Six Children Perish in a Fire.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Jan. 3.—A crowded flat building on East Third street was gutted by flames this morning. One child's body has been found. The mother is sure her other five children perished as they are all missing. The mother fainted in the hallway while crying for help. Forty families lived in the building which went up like a tinder box.

Kruger's Condition Serious.

By Wire to The Telegram.

The Hague, Dec. 3.—Kruger's condition is considered by his physicians as serious, but they think he will recover. He has bronchitis and a high fever.

Two More Firms Go Under.

By Wire to The Telegram.

London, Jan. 3.—Three additional firms failed this morning in consequence of the failure of the London and Globe finance corporation, limited.

Count von Zeppelin's Invention Proves to Be a Remarkable One.

Count von Zeppelin gave his airship another trial the other afternoon at Friedrichshafen and achieved a notable success. After rising the airship remained poised at a height of 600 meters for three-quarters of an hour. It then made a series of tacks and performed sundry turning maneuvers, after which it was steered against the wind. It finally headed toward Immenstadt, where the inventor landed after a trip that lasted about an hour.

The king and queen of Wurtemberg witnessed the trial from the deck of a steamer.

The airship carried four persons besides Count Zeppelin. When it rose the wind was from the northeast, blowing at a velocity of 3 1/2 yards per second. When the airship had attained a height of 400 yards it described a circle, and then drove with the wind in a generally circular direction for about six miles. It then again described a circle, after which it made headway against the wind, which was then blowing with increased velocity. Eventually the airship descended with great ease and steadiness into the lake and was towed to a shed.

The experiment was successful. Its stability, equilibrium and steering powers were excellent. It is generally agreed that considerable progress has been made since its first ascent.

Mr. Crimmonbeak—That artist spent three days painting the picture of a goat. I never saw anything artistic in a goat.

Mrs. Crimmonbeak—You didn't? Do you remember that goat that ate up my beautiful hand-worked pillow cushion? Wasn't there something artistic in him?

"Yes, dear, there was; but I couldn't see it, you know."—Yonkers Statesman.

An Eloquent Answer.

A colored citizen gave a justice of the peace a big, fat possum as a wedding fee.

Meeting the justice a year after his marriage, the former said:

"Well, Jim, how do you like married life?"

"Well, suh," was the reply, "all I kin say is—I wish I'd eat dat 'possum!'"—Atlanta Constitution.

Those Loving Girls.

Maude—How do you like my latest photo?

Clara—Oh, it's just too awfully lovely for anything.

Maude—Do you think it does me justice?

Clara—Justice is no name for it, dear; it is positively merciful to you. —Chicago Daily News.

RUSSIA WANTS ADVANTAGES

EXPECTS AMERICAN SUPPORT IN GETTING THEM.

Plans by Which Manchuria is to go Irrevocably into Her Grip—Will the United States Help?

London, Jan. 2.—The Pekin correspondent of The Daily Mail, wiring January 1, says:

"Russia, by conciliation, is trying to secure special advantages and there is a strong belief that she will receive American support. It is hinted that Russia inspired unfounded charges of barbarity against the German troops, the motive being to sow dissension between Great Britain and Germany."

In a dispatch to The Times from Pekin, dated December 31, Dr. Morrison gives the text of the Russo-Chinese agreement for the Russian protection of the Manchurian province of Fen Ting, Russia, he says, consents that China shall resume the civil government on the following conditions:

First. The Tartar General Tseng undertakes to protect and pacify the province and to assist in the construction of the railroad.

Second. He must kindly treat, feed and lodge Russians, engaged in the military occupation and in the protection of the railroad.

Third. He must disarm and disband the Chinese soldiery, delivering to the Russians all munitions of war in such arsenals as the Russians have not yet occupied.

Fourth. All forts and defences in the province not occupied by the Russians and all powder magazines not required by them must be dismantled in the presence of Russian officials.

Fifth. Niu Chwang and other places now in Russian occupation shall be restored to the Chinese civil administration when Russia is satisfied that the pacification of the province is complete.

Sixth. The Chinese shall maintain law and order by local police under a Tartar general.

Seventh. A Russian political resident, with general powers of control, shall be stationed at Mukden, to whom the Tartar General Tseng must give all information representing any important measure.

Eighth. In the event of local police being insufficient for any emergency, General Tseng will notify the Russian resident and invite Russia to send reinforcements.

Ninth. The Russian text shall be the standard.

The functions given the Russian resident, says Dr. Morrison, are similar to those of the Russian resident in Bokhara, or those of British residents in the native States of India. The agreement will necessarily be followed by similar agreements with reference to the other two provinces. Then Manchuria will be de facto a Russian protectorate, Russian by a pre-existing arrangement having already the right to maintain all troops necessary for the protection of the railroad.

The Rathbun Poisoning Case.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 2.—The report of the coroner's inquest in the Rathbun poisoning mystery, which has been absorbing public attention for the last week, was made public today. It finds that the death of Wm. Rathbun was caused by poison put into the coffee of a boarder, John F. Hart, by Maria Ann Rathbun, wife of William.

The intention of Mrs. Rathbun, according to the coroner's finding, was to secure the death of Hart, with whom she is declared to have had illicit relations. Jealousy because of Hart's neglect of her and his attentions during the last few months to another woman is ascribed in the coroner's report as the motive for Mrs. Rathbun's alleged act. The poison was put into Hart's dinner pail and Rathbun drank some of the coffee when Hart declared that it had a peculiar taste and burned his stomach. Both men were afterward taken sick but Hart recovered.

LIVED IN THREE CENTURIES.

AGED PHILADELPHIANS WHO ARE AS SPRY AS CRICKETS.

Mrs. Celestina Nigro, Mrs. Mary McDonald, Mrs. Elizabeth McIntyre and Michael Mooney Typical Centurians.

Philadelphia Record.

To have lived in three centuries is an honor that is shared by a number of Philadelphians today. The eighteenth, nineteenth and twentieth centuries have now had part in the lives of these old people, who are looking forward to the new era with much curious concern. These noted people of the past, present and coming times include, among a number of others, Mrs. Celestina Nigro, who is nearly 100 years of age; Mrs. Mary McDonald, who claims to be 129 years old; Michael Mooney, 108 years, and Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper McIntyre, who is past 100 years of age.

MRS. NIGRO A WONDER.

A most wonderful person is Mrs. Nigro, who was found last evening as happy as a lark upon the start of the new century at the home of her grandson, Felix Gambino, No. 821 Vine street. Mrs. Nigro was nursing the youngest of her forty great grandchildren, a baby two months old. With a grip of steel she shook hands with a reporter and proceeded to tell all she could that might interest younger people.

Mrs. Nigro was born in Campagna, State of Salerno, Italy, and came to this country 12 years ago. She was then 96 years of age, but made the trip across the ocean alone. The old woman told with delight how she frequently danced with the captain of the steamship on deck and of the honors that were paid her on the passage. Up to the time she left the old country Mrs. Nigro worked in a flour mill and it was her custom to every morning carry on her head two miles to the mill four bushels of meal.

UP EARLY AND STILL WORKS.

Up to six months ago this old woman never knew sickness. Then she was taken with a very bad cold and suffered three months, during which time she lost all her hair. Since her recovery, however, a new crop of white hair six inches long has grown, covering her entire head. Because her relatives will not allow her to do all the work she desires to go back to Italy. However, she rises at six o'clock every morning and does her own washing and sewing and some housework. All her faculties are as good as they ever were, her sight being so good that she can still thread her needles herself.

DRINKS WINE AND EATS MEAT.

Mrs. Nigro takes a great deal of exercise and several times a week makes long trips in the city, one of them being to a relative's home on Germantown avenue. Mrs. Nigro always walks, claiming that the street cars are not healthy.

When asked what she would recommend to insure a century of life Mrs. Nigro said: "Drink plenty of grape wine and eat lots of meat." The old woman eats hardly anything but meat, mostly beef, and never touches bread or potatoes. She likes everything hot to the taste, and is especially fond of red peppers. Mrs. Nigro's youngest daughter, Mrs. Antonia Gamboni, who is 65 years old, lives with her. The balance of her nine children are dead.

SHOOK HANDS WITH LAFAYETTE.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper McIntyre, who lives with her son, Court Crier Henry McIntyre, at No. 2233 North Fifteenth street, is one of the youngest old persons in the city. Very tall, straight and graceful, she is proud of herself. Mrs. McIntyre was born on November 21, 1800, at Third and Brown streets. Her father was a sea captain. She married, in 1818, John S. McIntyre, a superintendent of streets, and dwelt with him for many years at Eleventh and Market streets, where Bingham House now stands. Her husband died in 1871. She has had 98 children, grand-children and great-grand-children, and there survive of these seven children, 22 grand-children, and 21 great-grand-children. All her life she has been healthy. A great event in her life was when in 1824 she shook hands with General Lafayette, and, with a chorus of young women, sang the "Star Spangled Banner" for the handsome Frenchman. Mrs. McIntyre is the oldest member of the Chambers-Wylie Presbyterian church.

Mrs. McIntyre says the secret of her long life has been her teeth, which she kept good with care, and which have always been able to properly mastiis where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking spot, as it were, in regard to prices. First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity. They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time." And ours is the place to get the stuff.

the better of me, till the gratifications of the thirst seemed to be the sole object in life. I found that I was approaching the point when I should be willing to sell practice, family, honor, and life itself for the satisfaction of that quenchless craving. I had heard, of course, of the Greensboro Keeley Institute, and of Dr. Keeley's great one at Dwight, Illinois, but like many other men who had not investigated, I thought that it was a cure dependent largely upon the will power, and therefore worthless to me. I had no will power left. But finally, after seeing one who had been a patient, I became encouraged to try, and so left my home for Greensboro. That was the one act of my life for which I am every moment thankful. If there was ever a wrecked mortal it was I. I was given the treatment, and since the day I left The Institute I have never touched or wanted to touch another drop.

"It makes no difference why people begin to drink, the result is inevitably the same. If continued long enough the victim becomes an inebriate, which indicates a diseased condition of the nervous system. Dr. Keeley defines it to be 'a condition wherein the nerve cells have become so accustomed to performing their duties and functions under the influence of alcohol that they are dependent on it and will no longer perform those duties and functions properly and painlessly except when under its influence.' This accounts for the craving for drink which was never before understood. When every nerve cell in his anatomy is crying out for whiskey, is it any wonder that the victim yields? To bring about a cure, therefore, it is necessary to overcome this condition. The Keeley remedies are absolutely a specific for this disease.

"I noticed, too, that while the basic treatment is, of course, the same for all cases, even those for drunkenness, drug addictions, cigarettes and tobacco, or nerve exhaustion, each patient in the Greensboro Institute, all of whom live in the elegant old mansion now occupied by The Institute, and directly under the care of the physician, is treated according to his specific case. The closest attention is given to each, just as is done in a sanitarium. The result on the general health is therefore marvelous. Men are literally made over, and go away without a vestige of the old thirst. Of course a man may begin drinking again if he wants to, but it is his own fault. When he leaves The Institute he is as free from the thirst as he was before he ever touched drink, and experience teaches unmistakably that he will remain free unless he wilfully begins again. But as a matter of fact, few do go back to drink. In the first 1,000 treated by the Greensboro Institute, taken as they came, only thirteen per cent. have returned to drink.

"It is to be noticed now, too, that the per cent. who return will be less, from the fact that a better class of men are now patronizing the Institute. Business men, professional men, and others, who have contracted the pernicious drink habit knowing that they can be absolutely cured of it, are coming to Greensboro and taking the cure as they would accept any business proposition. They want to be cured of a repugnant and disastrous disease that they have sometime in their lives contracted. They know that by coming here, residing in The Keeley Institute for a few weeks and following the simple instructions, they can be freed. Hence men come in their most sober, earnest moments, when they are not drinking nor under the influence of liquor.

"One other thing is very significant. Wherever the cure is best known it is best patronized. No doubt more patients have gone to The Institute from Guilford and Durham counties than any others in the State. They come to Greensboro from nearly all over the United States, and when one man comes and goes back home he is sure to begin sending his friends.

"If any man wants to be freed from drinking he can be absolutely cured at the Greensboro Keeley Institute. There is no doubt about that. I know. I have been there myself, and every other man who has been there says the same thing."

Wants to be Delivered from the Philistines
William Leggett Messenger.

Can the Legislature do anything to put the breaks severely upon the trusts operating within North Carolina? If it can, will it not go as far as the power will permit and thus bring some relief to the people who are being ground in the mills of the Philistines?

THURSDAY, JANUARY 3

QUAY GOT 'EM.

It used to be said that when the North Carolina Legislature met at particular recurring periods a certain distinguished statesman was wont to go down, survey the field, and complacently remark "I've got 'em." It seems that Mr. Quay, who failed of election at the last session of the Pennsylvania Legislature, but was immediately appointed United States Senator by the Governor, lacked a few votes of having enough to organize the Legislature which met Tuesday. Five Democrats came to his aid and assisted in the Quay organization. The Philadelphia Record, an independent Democratic paper, says of them:

Probably the most deplorable happening in the United States yesterday—the first day of the century—was the organization of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives by the open enemies of decent government. A candidate for the speakership of recognized character and fitness was defeated by a candidate of proved unfitness who had nothing to recommend him. The latter had been named by Mr. Quay for the place. That elected him. The humiliation of defeat is the greater for the reason that it could not have been accomplished except by the aid of five Democrats who at the last moment betrayed their party and their State by voting with the enemies of both.

Whether or not their initial treachery—which has thrown the organization of the House into the hands of Mr. Quay—will be followed up by voting to elect him to the United States Senate has not yet been disclosed. They have done what they could to strengthen his hands in advance, to baffle and defeat projected reform legislation and to add to the political dishonor of the Commonwealth. When they shall go back among the constituents whom they have so basely discredited they will have cause to rue the day that they were born.

This is pretty tough on the boys. It takes a pretty strong pill to make a fellow wish he had never been born, especially if he has had pretty good sailing. Mr. Quay will drive his Democratic allies pretty hard, but he'll take care of them.

Guilford county has recently furnished an illustration of the State's inability to properly care for its insane. The subject was a man who died after having been demented for 170 years, his condition at times being dangerous. When his mind first became diseased it was believed that the proper treatment would restore him, but when application for his admission into the western hospitals was made it was found that the institution was then overcrowded, and thus it was that a citizen was denied the care and protection due him by the State.—Greensboro Patriot.

This is a story too often duplicated in the State. As some paper remarks, we can better do without some things than that this shall continue.

Elsewhere appears a long article from the Philadelphia Record about three extremely old people of that city. We had begun to think that the Record was telling a pretty straight tale till it struck Aunt Mary McDonald's case. We suggest to the Record that it apply the Southern rule for ascertaining the age of very old colored ladies, which is to count one year for every ten claimed over seventy-five. This would put Aunt Mary at about eighty-one, which is very liberal. As for her recollections of Valley Forge, she's probably got them mixed with those of the war between the States.

NEW YORK FOLLOWING GUILFORD.

It is noteworthy, the Richmond Times thinks, that in respect to the making of wagon roads the United States is much behind the progress of the age. The Times makes the assertion that in some of the States the roads are worse than they were fifty years ago. This is certainly not true of North Carolina. The subject of road making is now attracting attention all over the country. So great a paper as the New York Tribune is discussing the matter. It says:

The new century opens auspiciously for the cause of good roads in the State of New York. We called attention the other day to the action of the Supervisors of Oneida county in urging an appropriation of $500,000 this year by the State, to be met with a similar appropriation by the counties, making $1,000,000 in all, for the improvement of roads.

If the question of good roads is an important one for New York it is a more important one for the South because we have so many less railroads, water routes, electric and trolley lines. Railroad building in the South has largely been accomplished for many years to come, and our attention should be turned to the improvement of the dirt roads. Nothing else can mean more for the country's welfare. It is gratifying that Guilford is doing something along this line. But we must have a new impetus.

Victim of a Mule.

Winchester, Va., News.

Young Cranden Clem, who is 19 years old and a son of Mr. Jerry Clem, who lives on the Bufluck Road, came to Winchester on Saturday with his brother, Ernest Clem, Leo Ritter and Ward Kedwalliday. They rode horseback.

The mule on whose back young Cranden Clem was riding was very wild. The party left Winchester about 12 o'clock on Saturday night. When nearly home the mule suddenly threw his rider to the ground. Clem was in the rear and the others did not see what had happened until their attention was attracted by the voice of Clem. The mule had turned and was coming back to Winchester, dragging the young man, whose foot was caught in the stirrup. Before the boys could get to his assistance the mule had dragged him through Bufluck Run, over stones, against fences and over the side of the road. The saddle girth broke and young Clem was saved from further injury.

He had some money with him, but all was lost with the exception of $2.05. His penknife was also found. A new suit of clothes were torn into shreds, his head badly cut and bruised, as well as his body, arms and legs. He was nearly prostrated when assistance arrived, but managed to revive and get to his home. The distance the mule dragged him was about 150 yards.

Mr. Albright's Collection of War Souvenir Asheville Citizen.

In the show window of Ray's book store is an interesting souvenir of the civil war, the property of James W. Albright, and one that could not be duplicated. A frame, 18x25 inches, contains a Confederate flag in colors, surrounded by Confederate postage stamps and around this are a number of Confederate bills, one of which contain a picture of a locomotive of ancient design, and a picture of Sir Walter Raleigh.

In reference to a Greensboro Mutual note of 25 cents a notice states that "James W. Albright set the type from which this bill was printed, before he entered the Confederate army at Richmond, Va., May 4, 1862."

The postage stamps were given Mr. Albright April 11, 1865, on his way home from Appomattox by W. J. Walker of Bedford county, Va., and the $10 and $5 Confederate bills are part of the late soldier pay received by Mr. Albright at Petersburg, Va., just before the evacuation on April 2, 1865.

The $5 note was issued by Henry Humphries, who owned a cotton factory in Greensboro, and made payable to Henry R. Tate, his son-in-law, who was the father of Mrs. Charles N. Vance of Buncombe county. This bill is dated 1830.

When threatened by pneumonia or any other lung trouble, prompt relief is necessary, as it is dangerous to delay. We would suggest that One Minute Cough Cure be taken as soon as indications of having taken cold are noticed. It cures quickly and its early use prevents consumption. Howard Gardner.

LIVED IN THREE CENTURIES.

MRS. McDONALD'S ACUTE MEMORY.

Mrs. Mary McDonald, colored, who was freed from slavery by President Lincoln, says she is 129 years old. She lives in the Home for the Aged and Infirm, in West Philadelphia. Mrs. McDonald remembers the days of Valley Forge, and in the most picturesque language describes the soldiers who endured cold and hunger in their struggle for liberty. She remembers vividly the skirmishing about the Forge, the flash of the muskets and the shouts of the pick-ets.

She sat in her rocking chair in her clean bed room, yesterday afternoon, a very little figure in a white apron and a white cap, and said she had lived so long because she had taken such good care of her health.

"To insure a long life," said a young lady, "what would you advise a young girl to do?"

"I advise girls, if they want to live long, not to drink. I advise them to marry before they are twenty years old. I advise them to be Christians, and to work as hard as they are able, so as to make their husbands happy and so as to bring up their children in the good way. If they live like this they will be healthy. Nothing will worry them. They will live long, and when they go a great many people will be sorry."

"How would you advise a young man to live?" said one of these male creatures.

"Oh, men! What do I know about men? Don't ask me how men should live," said Mrs. McDonald, with a laugh.

She had one husband, who died after she had borne him nine children. She did not marry again. One husband, she said rather bitterly, had been found sufficient. Her health is good, and to the question: "I suppose you are no more anxious to die than we young folks are?" she answers: "No; I don't want to go before my time. I can wait till I'm called."

Until a few years ago Michael Mooney led a busy and varied life. He is now living in the home of the Little Sisters of the Poor. He has recollections of a certain disturbance in Ireland in 1798. He was born in Grantham, Ireland, in 1792, and arrived in this country in his youth.

"Science, inventions, progress—nothing of that kind interests me," he said yesterday afternoon; "for I'm a laboring man, and one that never learned to read and write. What the new century'll bring to pass in science I don't know, nor care much, neither. My interests have always lain elsewhere."

"Hard work and temperance and an early marriage are the things I advise that young man to cultivate who wants to live to my age. Smoking and chewing are all right. They harm no one. I've smoked and chewed since I can't remember when."

Michael is short and thin. His sunken face is smooth-shaven and his white hair plentiful. He eats well, but sleeps poorly. A cough keeps him awake nearly all night long.

Arrived at Isle of Wight yesterday and drove immediately to Osborne House—A Knight of the Garter, too.

Cowes, Isle of Wight, Jan. 2.—Field Marshal Lord Roberts arrived here today and drove immediately to Osborne House, where the Queen bestowed on him an earldom, with a special remainder for his daughters. He was also made a Knight of the Garter.

The steamer Canada, on which Lord Roberts arrived, anchored off Osborne at 11:45 a. m. The ships in the Roads were gallantly dressed, the sea front was elaborately decorated with bunting and Venetian masts, while festoons adorned the route to Osborne House, at the entrance of which was erected a unique tribute to the Queen's appreciation of the field marshal's work, in the shape of an arch of laurel. This was the first time such an arch had ever appeared there in honor of any subject of Her Majesty. A large crowd awaited him at the pier. He landed from the royal launch at 3:30 p. m., which was the signal for deafening shouts of welcome. Princess Beatrice, in her capacity as governor of the Isle of Wight, and the Duke of Connaught, representing the Queen, awaited Lord Roberts, whose arm was still in a sling as a result of being thrown from his horse in South Africa. He was warmly greeted and the party started in the royal carriage for Osborne House. The route was lined with troops and thronged with cheering sight-seers. Lord Roberts stopped on his way at the town hall of East Cowes, where eulogistic addresses of welcome were presented to him. Then he resumed his drive, and entered the grounds of Osborne House by the Prince of Wales entrance and proceeded up the troop-line avenue to Her Majesty's Isle of Wight residence. After a hearty reception in the council chamber by a number of Princes and Princesses, Lord Roberts was ushered into the presence of the Queen. His audience with Her Majesty was quite private.

Replying to the addresses at the town hall, Lord Roberts said he regretted that his return was not accompanied by immediate peace, but, he added, while he feared hostilities would continue for some time, he had implicit confidence in Lord Kitchener and had no fear regarding the outcome. He concluded with an eulogy of the magnificent army of Great Britain, all the components of which, he pointed out, pulled together splendidly.

GOOD ADVICE.

The most miserable things in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual constipation, palpitation of the heart, heart-burn, waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Prize Almanac. Grissom & Fordham.

Pepsin in preparations often fail to relieve indigestion because they can digest only albuminous foods. There is one preparation that digests all classes of food, and that is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. It cures the worst cases of indigestion and gives instant relief, for it digests what you eat. Howard Gardner.

RHEUMATISM—CATARRH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air, blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure and so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

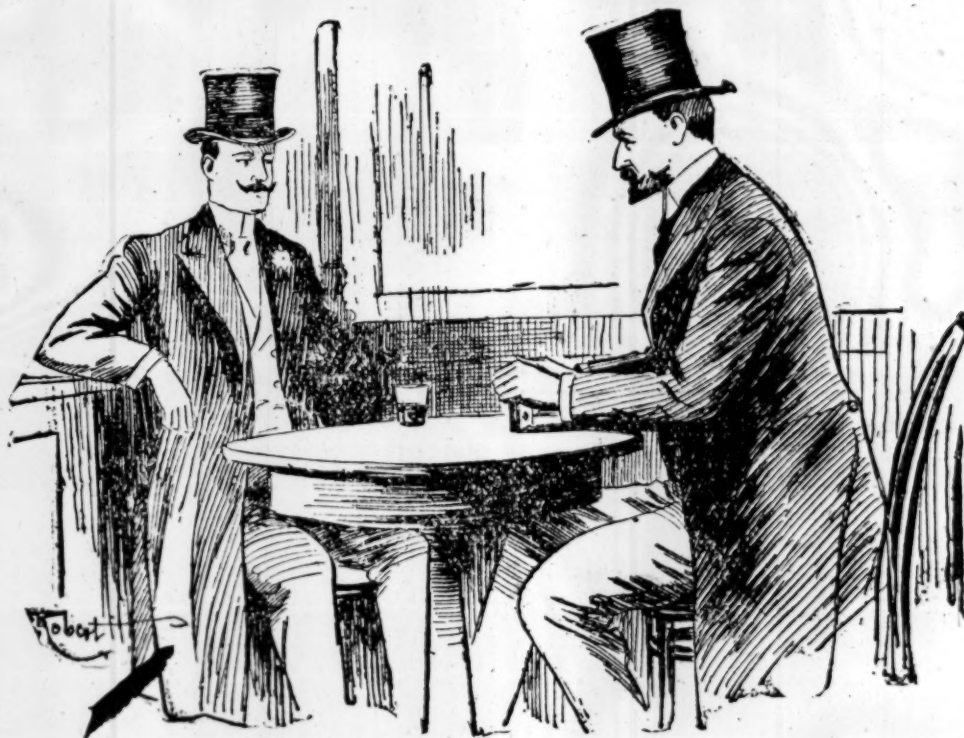

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

A GOOD THING.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cts. 8191—Ladies' Fancy Shirt Waist.
32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inch bust.

LADIES' FANCY SHIRT WAIST, NO. 8191.

Among the novel fabrics used for fancy shirt waists is a French flannel with polka dots of contrasting color, which have a velvety appearance. The waist illustrated is made of pale pink flannel with dark red dots, trimmed with velvet in the same shade.

It is mounted on glove-fitted linings which close in the center front. The backs are arranged in two inverted plaits at each side of the center. These taper in a V toward the belt, giving a becoming long waisted effect. A smooth adjustment under the arms is maintained by using an unner-arm gore.

The fronts are fitted plain on the shoulders and the fullness at the neck distributed in small gathers. They are decorated with wide velvet revers, which is turned back near the upper edge.

The collar closes in the center back, where it is higher than in front.

The upper sleeve fits the arm closely from shoulder to elbow, but is full at the lower edge, which is completed with a narrow velvet band. The velvet puff is applied at the end of the upper sleeve and finished with a wrist-band.

Stylish waists in this mode may be made of satin, taffeta, Lansdowne or Henrietta, with trimmings of lace, silk or panne. In some cases the waist is made of one material, with the collar, revers and puffs stitched in a contrasting shade.

To make the waist in the medium size will require two and one-half yards of thirty-six inch material, with three-fourths yard of velvet. The pattern, No. 8191, is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42-inch bust measure.

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT

Mr. W. A. Hines, of Manchester, Iowa, writing of his almost miraculous escape from death says: "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which completely cured me. I would not be without it even if it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store.

HE FOOLED THE SURGEONS.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, O., after suffering 18 months from Rectal Fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest cure on earth, and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist.

GLORIOUS NEWS

Comes from Dr. D. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Four bottles of Electric Bitters has cured Mrs. Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face, and the best doctors could give no help; but her cure is complete and her health is excellent." This shows what thousands have proved, that Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers, boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50 cents. Sold by C. E. Holton, druggist. Guaranteed.

Start the Century Right

Make up your mind that First Class Goods are the cheapest in the end whether to eat or to wear.

We make a specialty of High Grade Eatables and will sell them about as low as you can get second rate stuff for elsewhere.

Not how cheap but how good is the first question to ask concerning what you to buy to eat.

J. W. SCOTT & CO

W. L. Wharton & Co.

Having enjoyed a good Christmas trade for which we thank our customers, we remind you that we still have plenty to supply the demands of both dainty and robust appetites.

Yours for the holidays,

W. L. Wharton & Co.

TO OUR MANY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS :

We Thank You for the very liberal patronage given us during the holidays. We will show our further appreciation by endeavoring to give you satisfactory service in the future.

MERRITT, BROWER AND COMPANY :::

A CARD.

To the Public:—A large number of the best business people insured in the Aetna Life Insurance Company at the low prices, for 1900, which ended last week, and now hold policies in one of the best companies at a lower rate than can be gotten in the future.

Those who said "not today—see me tomorrow," have lost a golden opportunity by trusting that old and renowned thief—procrastination. You would better take hold promptly when the Aetna Band Wagon passes your way again. W. W. Wood will handle the reins again this year. If you get aboard he will land you safely on the twentieth century new policies and new prices that will be up-to-date in all respects.

To the many policy holders who favored him with their business in the year now closed he is profoundly grateful and congratulates them upon having written on the low rates in the old century.

He now invites the public attention to the new policies, the new year, and the new century, wishing abundant and abiding prosperity to all mankind.

Mr. W. W. Wood, special agent for The Aetna, is distributing new year's compliments and an illustrated excerpt from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales.

Greensboro Female College opened today. About one-half of the students have already returned, and the others will continue to arrive until next week.

Invitations have been received here to the sixteenth annual reception of the Home Lyceum, to be held at High Point on Tuesday evening, January the eighth.

The new city bonds are expected from the engravers by Mayor Taylor tomorrow. They will then be deposited with the city's agent in New York and the cash received for them.

Mayor Taylor this morning received a check from Miss Melville Fort for $113.29, the amount of her bid for a bond—one per cent. more than the highest bid. Seasongood & Meyer, who bought all the bonds, let her have one.

The Greensboro Broom Works recently incorporated will meet to organize next Monday at 3 p. m. All those connected with the company and all who wish to investigate with a view to investing in this stock are requested to be present in person or by proxy.

Married, in Wilmington, N. C., at 8 o'clock this morning, Mr. A. E. McKethen, of this place, and Miss Lena Mintz, of Wilmington. They will pass through Greensboro tonight on their way to Florida, but will return in a few days and make Greensboro their future home.

The music-lovers of Greensboro should not forget that a rare treat is in store for them. The recital to be given in the parlors of the McAdoo House at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon under the patronage of the Euterpe Club will be worth much more than the admission fee, which is only 35 cents. Those who are not so fortunate as to secure tickets beforehand can get them at the door.

Lieutenant-Governor Reynolds Here.

Lieutenant-Governor C. A. Reynolds, of Winston, passed through at noon going to Washington on business connected with the Winston post-office.

It is said that he is to be postmaster at Winston.

The Winston correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says that Mr. Reynolds would not appoint Governor Russell as Chief Justice, in case he were Governor, and that Linney is his choice.
